IV. COPYRIGHT ASSIGNMENT

(Before signing, please read both pages of this form; NO VARIATIONS IN WORDING ARE ALLOWED.)

The copyright law effective 1 January 1978 gives the copyright of a work to the person who wrote it. The Electric Rocket Propulsion Society (ERPS) prefers to hold the copyright of any work it publishes, with the clear understanding that the author and the author's organization have the right to reproduce it in print form (nonelectronic) for their own purposes, provided that the reproductions are not for sale. The Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release A does this.

Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release A: I assign copyright to my work to ERPS, giving the Society all rights to it except that I and the organization by which I was employed at the time I wrote the manuscript have the right of further print reproductions, in part or in full, provided they are not for sale. This reproduction right does not include distribution of the work via the Internet or by other electronic means. [Note: If Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release A is signed, the copyright notice will read as follows: "Copyright © 2009 by the Electric Rocket Propulsion Society. All rights reserved."]

Occasionally, special situations arise in which the author (or his/her organization, if he/she has assigned his copyright to it) wishes to retain the copyright in his/her (or its) name. In such a case, ERPS requires a license to publish the work. The Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release B should be used for this purpose.

Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release B: I hereby license ERPS to publish this work and to use it for all of ERPS's current and future print and electronic uses. [Note: If the author retains Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release B, the copyright notice, in the name of the copyright holder, should appear at the bottom of the first page of the manuscript and should read as follows: "Copyright © 2009 by _____. Published by the Electric Rocket Propulsion Society with permission."]

TO AUTHORS EMPLOYED BY GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

1. A "work of the United States Government" (hereinafter called a Government work) is a work prepared by an officer or employee of the United States Government as part of that person's official duties. In some cases, works prepared by employees of private companies who are under contract to a Government agency may also be Government works.
2. Copyright protection under the U.S. Copyright Law is not available for any Government work; however, copyright protection is available for a work of a Government employee that is done apart from his or her official duties, and the copyright shall reside with the employee (subject to any transfer made by the employee).
3. When a work of a Government employee does not fall within the purview of his or her official duties, the employee's use of Governmental time, material, or facilities will not, of itself, make the work a Government work.
4. Under the current copyright law a work may be protected, within certain limitations, even if a copyright notice is not present; however, the presence of a copyright notice on a work makes it clear to a reader who the copyright proprietor is and who can grant a license to reproduce the work, etc.
5. If a work of a Government employee is not a Government work, ERPS will not publish the work unless ERPS receives an assignment (Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release A) or a license (Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release B).
6. Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release C is the appropriate assignment to be executed by a Government-employee author (except NASA employees) who has prepared a Government work.
7. Please execute one of the three forms. If you are uncertain as to whether the work was outside your official duties, ERPS encourages you to seek appropriate counsel within your agency.

Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release C: This material is a work of the U.S. Government and is not subject to copyright protection in the United States. [Note: If Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release C is signed, the notice will read as follows: "This paper is declared a work of the U.S. Government and is not subject to copyright protection in the United States."]

Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release D: I prepared this work as part of my official duties as an employee of a Government contractor. [Note: If Copyright Release Notice or Assignment of Release D is signed, the copyright notice will read as follows: "Copyright © 2009 by the Electric Rocket Propulsion Society. The U.S. Government has a royalty-free license to exercise all right under the copyright claimed herein for Governmental purposes. All other rights are reserved by the copyright owner."]
